

Professor Kathy Hall was nominated to the Teaching Council by the Universities and named Third Level Colleges and is a member of its Education and Registration Committees. A native of Waterford, she is Professor of Education and Head of the School of Education at UCC. Her hopes for the Teaching Council are that it will enhance the professionalism of teachers and offer society confidence that the high standards of professional practice and conduct in teaching will be protected.